President Richter asked for an update on how the CivicRec launch was going. Superintendent Pratscher gave an update and overview of the process, saying each program now links directly to the registration portal. The District processed 4,000 transactions and over $551,000 since April 1, which is about a 20% increase from 2019. Camp Summer Quest has a waitlist that averages 34 campers per week and staff are now looking into other options. He reported Manager Nadeau is going to be offering an art camp. He said the District has also sold almost 400 pool passes to Sea Lion Aquatic Park.

Commissioner Hummel asked how staffing was going on lifeguards. Pratscher reported there is an industry wide shortage, and the District needs about 20 more. Superintendent Cerutti reported that the Parks Department usually has 18-20 seasonals and they have 1-2, they have been outsourcing more services, utilizing volunteer groups and the DuPage County Sheriff's Work Alternative Program as much as possible. He reported that without seasonal employees, the parks department's focus will remain largely on trash removal and weed control, as well as athletic field preparations without much time for other tasks.

Director Garvy reported that last month Commissioner Hummel had asked whether the park district has ever sought a waiver of permit fees at DuPage County. He reported he had contacted the county and was told they do not waive fees, as every department acts as its own cost center, they don't waive fees to other county departments of the forest preserve district, and they rely heavily on these fees as a way to try to control their tax levy.

Director Garvy reported he and Superintendent Cerutti are finalizing an update on the recently completed water quality study that's been a joint project of the park district and the Village of Lisle and expects to provide that to them next week.

He also reported the Arbor View Park project is out to bid and there are thirteen companies so far that emailed for bid packets. Kids Around the World will take the old playground equipment when ready and refurbish it and install it in a third world country, like they have done with a number of other playgrounds. The board thought it would be nice to have some pictures of playgrounds in their new locations from around the world on the District's website.

Director Garvy reported the Community Park softball field project will go out to bid in May with an anticipated recommendation to award the contract in June, start the work in September and finish in October, weather and conditions permitting.
